

Navigating Your RC Journey

1

Begin by:

- Self-reflecting on your current approach
- Exploring online and print publications

AND/OR

- Attending the Introduction to Responsive Classroom workshop. You'll learn how Responsive Classroom practices help teachers to foster positive community, integrate academics with the teaching of social and emotional skills, and create the conditions for positive student behavior.

Responsive Classroom®

Creating safe, joyful, and engaging classrooms

2

Complete coursework by attending:

- Elementary Core Course and Advanced Course
- OR
- Middle School Course

KALEIDOSCOPE

Schools utilizing the Responsive Classroom approach can monitor growth and make data-informed decisions by using Kaleidoscope:

- Kaleidoscope analyzes the results from the observation to create a school growth profile with customized resources and solutions
- The school leader then has access to Kaleidoscope to complete further observations

3

Continue to learn by attending One-day workshops:

- Responding to Misbehavior
- Special Area Teachers
- Support Staff Working Together
- Connecting Morning Meeting to Academics
- Sustaining Responsive Classroom Momentum
- Improving Teacher and Student Language

AND/OR

- Continued Responsive Classroom self-study
Online articles are available at www.responsiveclassroom.org/articles/
Recommended print publications:
 - RC assessment tool
 - Quick Coaching Study Guides
 - For Elementary Educators: Morning Meeting Book, Teaching Self-Discipline, The Joyful Classroom
 - For Middle School Educators: The Responsive Advisory Meeting Book, Seeing the Good in Students, Middle School Motivators!

4

Apply for Responsive Classroom Educator Certification by:

- Completing all required Responsive Classroom coursework
- Implementing Responsive Classroom with fidelity
- Completing the application. A certified Responsive Classroom coach will evaluate your application and determine if you are then qualified to receive the Responsive Classroom Educator designation. The process is intentionally rigorous to ensure that you can serve as a master teacher and exemplar of the Responsive Classroom approach.

Visit
www.responsiveclassroom.org
for more information.